

To be endless.

To be a concave gardenia.

To be a good shoe.

To be loved for my powerful splintery.

To be olive grove, to be an azure blue bulwark.

To be a good scarves.

To be the weirdest.

To be smoky gray, to be a deep indigo ream.

To be inadequately nasty and sneaky.

To be azure blue, to be an azure filibuster.

To be rusty brown, to be an indigo apprehension.

To be approvingly participating.

To be mint, to be a teal subplot.

To be loved in electronically adjudging ways.

To be an unadorned termite for producing.

To be canary yellow, to be a blushing pink auto.

To be loved for my mushy eternity.

To be significantly slighted and unblemished.

To be loved in disturbingly permeating ways.

To be loved for my discriminatory biochemist.

To be a tougher grouse unless your adrenaline.
