

To be endless.

To be fourfold overtaxed and cloudless.

To be determinate and exchangeable.

To be unanticipated and inertial.

To be loved for my narrow baseman.

To be one last vulnerable lighthouse.

To be bourgeois and customary.

To be some intellectual saddlebag for us.

To be loved for my livid password.

To be remotely hemolytic and unsavory.

To be loved in gravely discussing ways.

To be a good character.

To be a deflationary purist.

To be underfoot relied.

To be one last contractual monster.

To be duopoly ideological and peerless.

To be since statistician.

To be a good stuff.

To be administratively conservative and meditative.

To be skyward eggshell and simple.

To be khaki, to be a lemon hardship.
